Oakland County Schedules Home Ownership Retention Seminar in Rochester Hills

Pontiac, MI – October 7, 2009 - Another My Home – My Future Home Ownership Retention Seminar has been scheduled for Wednesday, October 14, 2009 at 6:30 p.m. at the Rochester Public Library, 500 Old Towne Road in Rochester. This meeting is free and open to all Oakland County homeowners.

Oakland County Executive L. Brooks Patterson has initiated free foreclosure intervention and prevention seminars to help families protect their most valuable asset, their home. The impact of rising foreclosures on Oakland County families and communities is of great concern to county and community leaders. Besides losing earned equity, damaging credit and other monetary losses, losing a home to foreclosure and displacing a family causes emotional, physical and psychological distress.

Topics at this seminar include budgeting, credit, choosing the right mortgage when refinancing, steps to stop the foreclosure process, and how to find assistance when you need it.

This event is hosted by Oakland County Commissioner Sue Ann Douglas, the Rochester Hills Public Library, Oakland County Community & Home Improvement Division, Lighthouse Community Development, and Oakland Livingston Human Service Agency.
