

Suicide Prevention

in Diverse Populations; Meeting People Where They Are

September 7, 2022

Noon – 1:00 pm

Virtual Session - Microsoft Teams

Suicide is a complex mental health issue, further complicated when societal and cultural barriers play a part. During this panel discussion, we will explore the challenges we face when talking about mental health and suicide within minority populations.

Topics covered will include:

- Combating stigma and cultural beliefs regarding mental health
- Why suicide rates are higher amongst certain populations
- Access to mental healthcare
- And more

Join American Foundation for Suicide Prevention (AFSP) Michigan as we have this important conversation.

Registration Options:

Register online at <https://bit.ly/OakFit-SuicidePrevention>

If you are unable to attend after registering you will be sent a link to view the recorded session.

Panelists include:

Corbin Standley, Director of Strategic Program Planning, AFSP (Corbin is also a suicide prevention researcher)

Jennifer Johnson, Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Chair, AFSP MI

Ried Depowski, LMSW, Board President, AFSP MI

Moderator:

Anne Perry, Area Director, AFSP MI

American Foundation
for Suicide
Prevention

For questions, contact Dawn Hunt at huntd@oakgov.com • (248) 858-5473