WHAT IS A GUARDIAN AND WHAT IS A CONSERVATOR?

A Guardian is a person who is given Probate Court authority to be responsible for the person and physical well-being of a minor (called a ward). The Guardian has the same powers and duties over the ward as parents have over their children except that the Guardian is not obligated to support the ward from his/her own funds. A prospective Guardian may be nominated by petition, or may be named in a will or “another writing.”

A Conservator is a person who is given Probate Court authority to be responsible for the assets (called an estate) of a minor (called a protected person). A Conservator may be nominated by petition filed with the Probate Court or by a deceased parent’s will.

WHEN IS A GUARDIAN NEEDED?

“Full Guardian”

- When the minor is unmarried and parental rights of both parents have been terminated or suspended by:
 - Prior court order
 - Judgment of Divorce or Separate Maintenance
 - Death
 - Mental incompetence as determined by the court
 - Disappearance
 - Confinement in a place of detention

Or

- When the parent(s) have permitted the minor to reside with another person, but have not provided that other person with the legal authority for the care and maintenance of the minor.

Or

- All of the following:
 - 1) The minor's biological parents have never been married to one another AND
 - 2) The minor's parent who has custody dies or is missing and the other parent has not been granted legal custody under court order AND
 - 3) The person whom the petition asks to be appointed guardian is related to the minor within the fifth degree by marriage, blood or adoption.

"Limited" Guardian

This guardianship can be done at any time for any reason *if the parents, custodial parent, or surviving parent voluntarily agree to suspend parental rights and the Probate Court approves. The parent(s) and proposed guardian(s) must both sign a Limited Guardianship Placement Plan.

 A Limited Guardianship cannot be used solely to establish residency for school purposes.*

WHEN IS A CONSERVATOR NEEDED?

When the minor has money, property or property interests that require protection or management because the minor is not an adult.

WHEN IS A CONSERVATOR NOT NEEDED?

When a minor is entitled to receive money or personal property not exceeding $5,000 per year. The money or property may be given to:

- The minor if he or she is married
- The person who resides with and has the care and custody of the minor
- The Guardian of the minor
- A state or federally insured financial institution holding a savings account in the sole name of the minor with notice of the deposit to the minor

WHO MAY PETITION THE COURT FOR FULL GUARDIANSHIP?

- Any person who is interested in the well-being of the minor
- Minors who are at least 14 years old

A Guardian nominated in the will or another writing of the remaining parent may be appointed as the Testamentary Guardian of the surviving child(ren) upon simply filing an Acceptance of Appointment with the Court.

WHO MAY PETITION THE COURT FOR LIMITED GUARDIANSHIP?

- Both parents must petition
- If there is only one legal parent, only that parent must petition
- If one parent has custody, only that parent must petition. The non-custodial parent must be notified of the hearing
- Generally, the petitioning parent(s) must attend the court hearing

WHO MAY PETITION THE COURT FOR THE APPOINTMENT OF A CONSERVATOR?

- Minors who are at least 14 years old
- Any other person who is interested in the protection of the minor's assets
- Other persons who would be adversely affected by the lack of proper management of the protected person's estate

WHAT ARE THE DUTIES OF THE GUARDIAN?

- Care and provide support for the ward just as parents do for their own child(ren); except that:
 - The Guardian is not legally obligated to provide for the ward from the guardians' own money; and
 - The Guardian is not liable to third persons by reason of the “parental” relationship for the ward’s acts

- Care for the ward’s personal effects
- Commence a protective proceeding if necessary to protect the ward’s property
- Receive money payable for the ward’s support
- Expend money received for the ward’s support, care and education
- Conserve any excess for the ward’s future needs

- Facilitate the ward’s education, and social or other activities
- Authorize medical or other professional care, treatment, or advice
- Report annually to the Court as to the ward’s condition
- May consent to the ward’s marriage or adoption*

* Except a Limited Guardian may not consent to the minor’s marriage or adoption.

WHAT ARE THE DUTIES OF THE CONSERVATOR?

- Accumulate, preserve and protect the assets of the protected person

- Handle those assets as any other competent adult would handle his or her own funds

- Expend reasonable sums as necessary for the ordinary care and support of the protected person

- Ask court permission before selling or otherwise disposing of the protected person’s real estate

- Invest available funds pursuant to the restrictions on the Letters of Authority or subsequent court orders

Conservators may be held responsible for improper management of the funds if it is a result of bad faith or negligent handling.

WHEN MAY A GUARDIANSHIP OR CONSERVATORSHIP BE TERMINATED?

The only time a guardianship ends automatically is when the minor becomes 18 years of age, become emancipated, marries or dies. Other than that, a petition must be filed to end a guardianship or conservatorship and the judge must make a determination as to whether it is in the best interests of the minor.

For instance, a guardianship does not end just because the guardian returns the minor to the parents. The guardian will still be legally responsible until a petition is filed, a hearing is set, and a judge makes a determination that the guardianship should be terminated.

Anyone, including the minor who is 14 or older, may petition to remove a guardian or conservator, to appoint a successor guardian or conservator, or to request a termination of the guardianship or conservatorship. The judge will make a determination at a hearing after notice to interested persons.

Before the court will discharge a conservator from responsibility:

- The Conservator must file a Final Account, Proof of Restricted Account and Financial Institution Statement(s)
- The Court must approve the Final Account
- The Court must be satisfied that the assets have been properly protected and preserved
- The minor (now an adult) must sign a receipt for the remaining assets

Since the above described legal procedures and duties can substantially affect the rights of minors as well as subject the Guardian or Conservator to personal liability, it is recommended that a person who is seeking to be appointed or who is actually appointed as Guardian or Conservator consult an attorney prior to accepting this trust.
