

EMPLOYER WORKSHOP SERIES

Building Leaders

Organize an effective leadership team and optimize succession planning

JULY 17, 2024 | 10:00 - 11:30 AM

It's the age-old question that keeps many business owners up at night: "What's next"? Saying "I don't know" is an all-too-common response.

In fact, according to current industry data, 48 percent of business owners expect to exit the business in the next five years, but only 35 percent have a formal succession plan.

Join us for our next virtual workshop, which will focus on the steps business owners can take to build the seamless value that allows their business to evolve and grow beyond the foreseeable future. The business succession advisors at Q5 Experience take a two-pronged approach to achieve this, focusing on both leadership's vision and purpose, as well as working with them to change their approach to thinking about their business and an effective exit strategy.

WORKSHOP HIGHLIGHTS:

- What makes a good leadership team and how do you build it?
- How vital is a "2 Page Vision" to the success of the company?
- What "right people/right seats" means and how critical it is?
- Why the "whole person" matters when it comes to business owners and their leadership teams
- What is "thinking about your thinking" and how does Q5 use it to help owners
